

MOTORMAN GOT DIVORCE TODAY

George Schrader Granted Separation
From Wife by Judge Megee—Defendant Made No Fight.

WILLIAMS CASE DISMISSED

Clara Gregg, Defendant in Similar Action, Defaulted—Frank Offutt
Sued C. H. & D.

George Schrader, an I. & C. motorman, was granted a divorce from his wife, Mary Schrader, in the circuit court this afternoon immediately after a hearing that lasted little more than a half hour. Mrs. Schrader did not contest the suit.

Will M. Frazee and T. W. Lytle were resident witnesses for the plaintiff. Mr. Schrader testified to some of the allegations of the complaint on which he based his grounds for a divorce. There were only the three witnesses.

Judge Megee did not place Mrs. Schrader on the witness stand, but he ask if she thought it would be possible for her and her husband to live together again and she replied that she did not. Will M. Sparks, her attorney, in a statement to the court, expressed the same belief, because, he said, he has been trying to effect a reconciliation for a year, but found it impossible. Gates Sexton was attorney for Mr. Schrader.

In the divorce case of Lucian B. Gregg against Clara Gregg, the defendant defaulted, and the prosecutor was ordered to appear for her. One divorce suit was dismissed. It was that of Howard Williams against Nora Williams. It was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff and the costs paid.

A suit was filed today by Samuel L. Trabue, the first under an act of the last legislature in the local court. It was in the nature of a petition for the repair of a drain and was brought by Voorhees Cavitt and Nora Cavitt. Here-to-fore there has been no mention in which to have an existing drain repaired by petitioning. Under the new law, the court or the commissioners have the right to order the drain repaired when the petition is presented and it deemed necessary.

Frank Offutt has filed a damage suit against the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway, demanding $303.22. He alleges that on March 5, 1913, he shipped an automobile over the defendant road and that it body from Arlington to Racine, Wis., was lost in the shipping. It was valued at three hundred dollars and the cost of the freight was $3.22.

MOTION TO QUASH ARGUED

Effort Made to Throw Out Case Against Brickert.

Judge Megee heard the argument this morning on a motion to quash the affidavit in the case of the state against J. R. Brickert. Brickert is charged in a grand jury indictment with obtaining property under false pretenses. John Kiplinger, attorney for Brickert, presented the motion to quash on the grounds that the indictment was not sufficiently certain on which to prosecute. Donald Smith appeared for the state. Judge Megee took the question under advisement. The trial of Brickert is set for October 20.

Boiled potatoes are better than soap for cleansing hands, blackened by contact with kitchen utensils.

GRAND JURY TO MAKE PRISON

Sandusky Man, Charged With Shooting Relative, Released on Bond.

The shooting at Sandusky Sunday in which Wilbur Nation suffered injuries which will cause the loss of the sight of his left eye will be investigated soon by the Decatur county grand jury. Ethie Waybright, who is accused of shooting his brother-in-law, Nation, with a shot gun, following a quarrel which started when the two families were gathered at the home of Nation's mother, waived preliminary hearing before Squire Creath in Greensburg yesterday afternoon. He entered a plea of not guilty and was released on a bond of $500 furnished by Dr. C. B. Grover.

APPOINTMENT IS CONFIRMED AT LAST

Robert E. Mansfield, Son-in-Law of John K. Gowdy, Goes to Vancouver, as Consul General.

IS A PROMOTION IN SERVICE

The United States Senate yesterday confirmed the appointment by President Wilson of Robert E. Mansfield, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy of this city, as consul general to Vancouver, B. C. This is not only a change for Mr. Mansfield, but it is also a promotion. He has been American consul to Zurich, Switzerland.

The confirmation of the appointment by the Senate closes a long fight by the "pie-counter" advocates in the Democratic party to disrupt the civil service rules that have been established in the consular service. President Wilson has advocated that the present order should not be disturbed in order to get the best results for the United States. Those opposed to the appointment of Mr. Mansfield alleged that he never took an examination to enter the service in the first place, but investigation proved that he did.

GREAT STRIDES MADE IN 3 YEARS

Rushville Glove Company Will Have Doubled Capacity and Output by First of Next Year.

100 WILL BE ON THE PAYROLL

Soon after the first of next year the Rushville Glove company will have doubled its equipment, capacity and force, and consequently its output. It is expected that by early next year one hundred people will be employed by the company.

This concern has made remarkable strides. It was only three years ago that there were only six machines at the factory and eight people were employed. The increase in three years is sufficient indication of the success that has crowned the efforts of the Rushville men who founded the concern and have worked to make it a paying venture and one which will be of great value to Rushville. It has been built up with local capital and with no outside aid whatever.

Another engine which will double the power is soon to be installed. The installation of the new machines will go on as rapidly as possible and just as fast as people can be employed to operate them.

PROTECTION FOR BOTH FACTORIES

Innis-Pearce Company and Park Company Will Have Automatic Fire System in Few Months.

THE WORK IS NOW BEING DONE

Water Tower Will Have Capacity of 40,000 Gallons and Will be 102 Feet High.

A force of about twenty-five men is at work at the Innis-Pearce furniture factory installing an automatic fire protection system that will serve to protect from fire not only the Innis-Pearce factory, but also the Park furniture factory. The cost will be approximately $23,000.

One standpipe will supply the system at each factory. It is being erected just east of the Innis-Pearce ice house. The water tower or standpipe will be 102 feet high and will have a capacity of forty thousand gallons. When it is full of water it will weigh four hundred thousand pounds. The tower will rest on four immense cement blocks and will give a pressure in both of the factories of sixty-five pounds.

The fire protection system which is being installed is the most modern and accepted to be the best in use in the United States. It is said that the system is in much more general use than any other system. It has been installed in most of the large warehouses, department stores, factories and other mammoth structures and has been found to be very effective in times of fire.

The pipes containing the water under sixty-five pounds of pressure will be run in the ceilings of each floor of both buildings. At intervals in the pipes are sprays which are so made that when a certain heat is reached, they will open automatically and will begin to throw water. Three ear loads of pipe have just arrived for this part of the system.

The water will be pumped into the water tower with fire pumps which are at the Innis-Pearce factory from wells just back of the factory. Arrangements have been made to have a connection between the water tower and the city mains so that if the necessity ever does arise, the factory could connect on to the city mains. The Innis-Pearce company recently asked permission to connect with the city mains and the council granted it.

Both of these factories have had fire protection system and were not dependent on the city alone for fire protection, but it was nothing compared to the one which is being installed. The work will be finished some time in January, it is believed.

George Urbach has resigned as machine operator at the Palace theater.

Mrs. Peter Harrison is critically ill at her home in North Hannah street.

Emory Binford of Carthage has accepted a position at the Peoples National bank.

Charles H. Alger has filed suit on a note against William Emsweller, demanding $350.

Luther Reneger has filed an account suit against William McDaniel, demanding $100.

Mrs. Ira Ayres has been taken to the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubbard and Allan Blackledge motored to Knightstown this afternoon and will attend the Phi Delta Kappa dance there tonight.

RAINS HINDER THE FALL WORK

Wheat Sowing Especially Suffers Because of the Continued Damp Weather, With Little Sun.

CORN STANDING UP WELL

Wheat Acreage Will be Larger Because of Excellent Yield and Quality of Crop This Year.

Farmers are busy now at the usual fall task of sowing wheat. They have been delayed in this work considerably by the frequent rains and the wheat is being put in the ground later this year than in many seasons. It is generally the case that there is very little rainfall just at this time. In addition there has not been much drying weather so that the farmers could proceed with wheat sowing when the rains stopped. It is very probable there will be plenty of favorable weather in October for this work.

The wheat crop in Rush county this year is larger than the average, due to the stimulus of the excellent yield of the last crop. This tendency of farmers to sow heavily upon the heels of a good yield, and to sow less, through discouragement, immediately after a poor yield, is considered shortsighted. Were they to reserve the process it is believed by crop experts that considerably better results would follow.

The wheat is going in in very good shape, so far as the work has gone. Eighty per cent of the crop is sown between corn rows. The stalks are standing up far better than usual—a condition which makes sowing easier, and will also lessen the labor of corn husking immensely. Weeds favored by the late summer rains have sprung up in the corn, it is true, but their disadvantages in sowing are, in general more than offset by the straightness of the corn.

With this work going forward as well as it is; with the corn ripening under the action of frost; with pastures far and away better than they usually are at this season, and with the prefiguration of excellent prices for nearly every kind of farm produce for the next twelve months, the rural population of this and neighboring counties are looking into a set of conditions which are sufficient to make them glad.

MOTHER AND SONS FALL

Thrown From Merry-go-Round and Seriously Injured.

Mrs. John Tarbett of Carthage has been at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Lee Baker, of near Greenfield, who, together with her two small sons, were thrown from a merry-go-round at Greenfield and seriously injured, although no bones were broken. The mother had taken her little sons on the swing and was standing between them as they were seated on the ponies. When the swing was in motion she thought the smaller of the children was falling and in trying to save him she lost her balance, all three falling from the swing while it was in rapid motion. Mrs. Baker lived in Carthage all of her life up until her marriage and is well known in northern Rush county.

John Rosencrance this morning set his machine to drill a well on the lot just back of the I. & C. traction station where Lee Pyle will build a laundry building. The house is being moved from the lot.

SEALS GIVEN $200 DAMAGES

Jury Found For Plaintiff After Being Out an Hour.

The jury in the damage suit of Thomas Seals, administrator of the estate of Walter Seals, deceased, against the Light, Heat and Power company of Connersville, awarded the plaintiff $200 damages. Seals asked $5,000. The jury was out a little over an hour on the case. F. F. Cross acted as foreman. The case has occupied the attention of the court since last Thursday. Walter Seals died following injuries received when a cylinder head of an engine blew out at the plant of the defendant company. The $200 will just about pay attorney fees.

RURAL MEN BEGIN COUNT TOMORROW

Also Required to Weigh and Keep Account of Postage on all Mail Delivered and Collected.

CONTINUE FOR TWO MONTHS

Beginning tomorrow the rural mail carriers have to classify, weigh and count every piece of mail they handle for two months. In addition to this they have to keep account of all postage, exclusive of registry and insurance fees, on all delivered and collected mail, for the same period, according to orders that have been sent out by the fourth assistant postmaster general at Washington to Postmaster G. P. Hunt here.

The carriers are ordered to include matter marked "postage paid," but on which stamps are not affixed. A separate count of all franked and penalty matter is required. The mail received at an intermediate post-office for delivery shall be included also. The matter carried in closed pouches must be weighed, including the sacks, but no counting of the postage is required.

HORSE SHOW LAST WEEK IN OCTOBER

Date Set at Meeting of Horse Show Company Last Night—Want to Make it Best One Yet.

HELP OF EVERYONE IS ASKED

At a meeting of the horse show company last night the week of October 27 to 31 was selected for the annual fall horse show and combination sale. The company announces it will leave nothing undone to make this the greatest show, and especially sale, ever held here. A special invitation is issued to women to attend both events.

The premiums and will be awarded and paid according to the amount of the subscription. Any person living in the city and county can mail donations any time to the company and the list of donors will be published. The company asks the help of every horse owner in Rush county to assist all they can to make Rush county famous for its horse show and sale. Everyone is invited to help.

Persons who desire to enter stock or anything else they desire to sell in the combination sale are urged to send in the pedigrees and other remarks as soon as possible so as to get the benefit of the catalogue advertisements.

OFFER OF $100 REWARD IS MADE

I. & C. Places Posters Along Lines
Today Setting Forth Laws That Might be Violated.

TRACKS PATROLED AT NIGHT

No Significance Because This is Always Done in Fall and Winter to Prevent Accidents.

The Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company today posted notices all along its lines announcing that it would pay one hundred dollars rewards to any persons giving information which will bring about the arrest and final conviction of any person guilty of committing any crimes on its lines or property that are provided for in Indiana legislation. The laws against such crimes are reproduced and the citation given.

The section men who always patrol the lines during the fall and winter have been cautioned to be especially vigilant at this time because a few things have occurred recently to hinder the operation of the line. There is no significance to the fact that men patrol the lines at night, because this is the custom when the season of freezes and thaws is on because then there is much more danger of broken rails.

It is pointed out on the poster that it is a crime, mischievously or maliciously to shoot any weapon or throw a stone, or club, or any other substance at or against any street or interurban car, punishable by imprisonment of not less than thirty days nor more than one year, and a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100. The law also says that if any person is injured or wounded by such act, the offender is guilty of assault and battery with intent to commit murder, and is punishable under that statute. In case the person injured dies the offender is guilty of murder in the second degree.

In the second place another law is quoted to show that it is a crime wilfully or maliciously to place any obstruction upon the track of any interurban or street railroad, or to change any switch or remove the fastenings thereof so as to endanger the passage of trains or cars, or to break, destroy, steal, take or carry away wilfully or maliciously to commit any other act to throw the cars running upon such railroad from the track. Such acts are punishable by imprisonment in the state prison of not less than 2 years or more than 14 years. If death results from any accident caused by the things mentioned, the law provides the offender is guilty of murder in the first degree and shall suffer the death penalty or imprisonment for life.

Further it is set forth in another law that it is a crime to injure any electric car pole, either mischievously or maliciously, or the wire or any less than $5 or more than $500 and therewith, punishable by fine of not part of the apparatus connected imprisonment in the county jail not less than six months.

Another law on the poster says it's crime to injure or cause to be injured any property, either maliciously or mischievously, which is punishable by a fine two-fold the damages and imprisonment not more than 12 months.

The last law quoted states it is a crime unlawfully to place, put, move or run, or cause to be placed, put, moved or run any handcar, motorcar, or other car or vehicle on the track of any interurban or street railroad without the consent of the proper officials. This is punishable by a fine of not more than $500.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription.

We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it.

Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

THAW BRUSHES ASIDE ADVICE OF LAWYERS

His Statement Sets Counsel to Guessing.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 30.—That irrefragable trait in Harry Thaw's make up by which he brushes aside the legal advice of his attorneys has broken out afresh. Despite his counsel's efforts to have him maintain strict silence he has issued a statement which has caused them much chagrin. This statement, the ultimate effect of which is being carefully considered by the Thaw legal forces and which Thaw gave out over his own signature, is as follows:

"If the Dutchess county grand jury has found an indictment at the time Mr. Jerome solemnly told Governor Felker that they had found one, I shall go to Dutchess county, New York, and demand trial upon it.

"All we are concerned with is Mr. Jerome's public statement to Governor Felker that an indictment was found. We are sure that no Dutchess grand jury would make an indictment contrary to law and contrary to common sense in order to please Mr. Jerome or his rich friends, therefore we think that Mr. Jerome's bombshell was stuffed with sawdust."

VICTIM OF A CHANCE SHOT

School Teacher Killed When Friend Fired Through Door.

Rensselaer, Ind., Sept. 30.—Albert Bates, aged twenty-one, of Metamora, Ind., was accidentally killed at Lewiston, twelve miles from this place, by Claude Taylor of Lafayette. Bates was the teacher of the Lewiston school and with a number of other young men had assembled at a vacant building in Lewiston. Taylor had been sent from Lafayette to kill some dogs that had been killing sheep and, in company with the other men, had been shooting at a mark. He went into a room adjoining the one where the other men were and fired a revolver. The bullet, after passing through a door, went through Bates's arm and into his side. He died six hours later.

Fire destroyed Barker Brothers' warehouse at Los Angeles, the largest furniture establishment in southern California, causing a loss of $1,000,000.

INVESTIGATING SCANDAL

Situation in Embassy at Rome Annoys
State Department.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Alexander Benson, secretary of the American embassy at Rome, will be summoned to Washington by Secretary of State Bryan as a result of the thorough investigation of conditions in the embassy which the state department is making following the charges against Post Wheeler, the first secretary of the embassy. It is also probable that other members of the embassy staff will be ordered to Washington to explain what part if any they have had in the petty scandal and friction that has existed there for nearly a year.

Charged With Padding Payroll.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 30.—Three arrests were made of employees of the E. J. & E. railroad of the Steel corporation, at Kirk yard. Payroll padding to the extent of $30,000 are alleged. The prisoners were removed to Crown Point.

The senate has confirmed the nomination of Henry Wade Rogers of Connecticut to be United States circuit judge for the Second judicial circuit.

MANY RUMORS ABOUT ROYAL NEWLY-WEDS

Germany All Agog Over Sensational Stories.

Berlin, Sept. 30.—Just now two young royal couples in Germany are occupying the attention and imagination of the press and public both here and abroad to a considerable extent. The sudden illness of Princess Victoria of Hohenzollern, the bride of ex-King Manuel of Portugal, while on her honeymoon near Munich and the mystery with which it has been surrounded has given rise to a flood of rumors, none of which appears to be based on actual knowledge.

Some German papers broadly hint at what is declared to be the real nature of the illness of the bride, from which conclusions are drawn which are based to a large extent on the alleged past life of the ex-king. A report from Munich via Vienna says the princess will return to her home, and it is alleged that she has declared that she will never agree to live with her husband again.

The other royal couple whose affairs are occupying the attention of the papers and the people are the kaiser's only daughter, Princess Victoria Louise and her husband, Prince Ernest of Cumberland, who were married last May. A statement was made last night that the princess will return to her home at Rathenow as soon as her husband, Prince Ernest, returns from Omunden. This bride also has been ill recently, and this resulted in several hurried visits to Rathenow by her royal mother, who took her home to Potsdam. It also gave rise to a crop of rumors about a quarrel between the young couple. As a result of her illness it is said that hopes of a visit by the stork will have to be given up for some time. The princess, however, has much improved in the last few days. In circles close to the court the reports of a quarrel between Prince Ernest and his bride are vigorously denied.

Caught at a Crossing.

Harmony, Ind., Sept. 30.—Oscar Young, aged twenty-three, was instantly killed when struck by an L. T. H. & E. Traction car on a crossing two miles south of here. He was driving a horse and buggy.

SULZER CASE IS NEARING AN END

Prosecution Expected to Conclude This Afternoon.

GOVERNOR TO TELL HIS STORY

First Witness For the Defense in Impeachment Proceedings Will Be the Man Against Whom These Proceedings Were Brought and Who Believes His Story of Poverty and Persecution Will Save Him.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Late this afternoon or tomorrow morning testimony against William Sulzer is likely to be finished. By tomorrow afternoon the governor may be on the stand beginning the long story of poverty and persecution which he believes will save him.

In five days of actual testimony the swiftly moving lawyers of the prosecution have nearly completed their case. They expected to require at least seven. They believe that they have already insured conviction. Some of their best witnesses, however, they are holding for rebuttal. They suspect that Governor Sulzer's narrative in his own defense will cover so much ground that a wide latitude of testimony will be permitted in reply.

The governor's lawyers were elated by rulings of Judge Cullen which blocked the impeachment managers at two important points. One of them was that nobody except John Boyd Gray of Fuller & Gray could be allowed to testify as to whether or not "Account 509" which Frederick L. Colwell carried with that firm was really the account of William Sulzer. Two witnesses of whom this question was asked were checked by the defense.

sustained by Judge Cullen, when they said they only knew what Mr. Gray had told them. The impeachment managers were hit by this ruling because their subpoena servers have been unable to find Mr. Gray. However, his partner, Arthur M. Fuller, has promised to find Mr. Gray if he can and have him in Albany.

The ruling which heartened the defense and went hard with the prosecution was that no assemblymen except Thaddeus C. Sweet of Oswego county and Spencer G. Prime of Essex county could testify as to the governor's corrupt use of the veto power in bargaining for votes for his direct primary bill, as alleged in impeachment article No. 7.

MURDER TRIAL CONTINUES

Record Case May Occupy All of This Week.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 30.—The second week of the trial of William Record for the murder of Joseph Gilbert began with an argument over the admission of the dying statement made by Mr. Gilbert to Frank Foley, deputy prosecuting attorney, and two other persons. It is expected the trial will occupy all of this week.

Record had been employed on the Gilbert place at the east edge of the city, many years, and was always taken back after his spree, despite the objection of members of Mr. Gilbert's family. Mr. Gilbert felt kindly toward Record and though he was a man of mature age, regarded him as a child. When Record was drinking he was quarrelsome and the state is trying to prove that he went to the Gilbert home one Sunday afternoon last April nursing a feeling of resentment toward Mr. Gilbert. He shot his aged benefactor. Passersby who saw Record about the place with a gun are the chief witnesses for the state. No one was in the house with Mr. Gilbert at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carson accompanied by their daughter Hazel were coming in town one evening last week and just after turning the corner at Mr. Reynold's store the buggy reaches broke letting them down to gouge into the stone road, breaking the spring bar and not a few of the other parts of the buggy. There were no damage done to the occupants. The buggy was taken to the shop for repairs and another buggy was procured and they went their way home after transacting some little business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Britt entertained 16 people from Everton Fayette county, Ind. Sunday for dinner. They are former friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Britt.

The United Presbyterians rendered the Rally Day program on Sabbath afternoon instead of having their Sabbath school. Quite a large audience listened very attentively while the small children performed their part. The orchestra ably assisted the choir in the rendition of the musical part of the program.

Keeps Your Stove "Always Ready for Company"

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy and pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny—unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used.

Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish one-fourth as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

on your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove. Get a can from your hardware or stove dealer. If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind. Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove pipes bright and free from rusting by using BLACK SILK AIR-DRYING ENAMEL. Brush free with each can of enamel only.

Use BLACK SILK METAL POLISH for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW MODERN ENGLISH DICTIONARY WITH LATEST UNITED STATES CENSUS:

This most convenient and latest of all Dictionaries is based on the principles embodied in Noah Webster's Dictionary, printed from new type and profusely illustrated in color, revised and brought right up to today by American and English authorities, designed to meet every demand of a modern, reliable Dictionary.

It includes all words in the English language that do not properly belong to a Dictionary of Technical Terms. In fact, its recent publication and careful revision by the greatest authorities in the world enable it to define and treat a large number of words of recent coinage that cannot be found in any other Dictionary, no matter how cumbersome and pretentious.

Surprising results are obtained in looking up the spelling, pronunciation and definition of a host of words which have been incorporated into our language only yesterday, as it were. Take, for instance, Volplane, Aeroboot, Pylon, Cavitation, Biplane, etc., introduced as a result of recent aeronautical activity—also such new words as Brainstorm, Billiken, Cordite, Denatured, Dummite, Joy Ride, etc.—also Okapi, an animal allied to the Giraffe—also Hookworm, Lettergram, Nickelodeon, Stovaine, Hangar, Equilibrator, etc.

Thus the evidences of painstaking compilation are found on every hand.

Typhoid From Watercress.
Any attempt to trace typhoid infection to the use of uncooked vegetables such as lettuce, watercress and celery is likely to succeed only under rather peculiar conditions. Ordinarily, the distribution of such articles of food to a large circle of consumers, and the difficulty of discovering, several weeks afterward, that such things were eaten, and by whom, are facts that conspire to render us ignorant of the real frequency of such sources of infection.
A remarkable typhoid outbreak apparently due to polluted watercress has recently been reported from Philadelphia to The Journal of the American Medical Association. At a wedding breakfast, June 24, with forty-three guests in attendance, nineteen persons ate watercress sandwiches, eighteen of whom later developed typhoid fever. Investigation by the Philadelphia Bureau of Health showed strong reason for suspecting watercress to be the vehicle of infection.

plied with butter this fall.
Yet butter all comes from the cow, like milk, and is an important constituent of the most natural food the world contains. It adds tang to the staff of life, and converts the severity of a slice of bread into a rich satisfaction for the hungry man.
It is true that the people of Southern Europe and other countries subsist largely without butter.
But it is largely an economy habit, the frugal custom of a people whose imperfect industrial life restricts their means of subsistence.
If Vassar has really cut out butter from its table, it of course does so from a belief that the students will be healthier without it. But is not a wholesome diet dependent on appetite as well as chemical formulas? To most people bread without butter would be so unattractive that but little would be eaten.
Columbus is making a campaign for a Y. M. C. A. building. If the same amount of effort is put forth as has been done in undertakings in the Bartholomew county seat, the project is as good as won at the very beginning. Columbus has a filtering plant and a Carnegie library and many other modern and up-to-date things. Rushville could not do better than emulate Columbus.
Although lights are now burning late in the college student quarters, the parents need not feel so much alarm for fear the boys are studying too hard.
The aviator will never rest satisfied with flying over the Mediterranean, or any other sheet of water where there is a fair chance to get across.
It is proposed that the army take hold and help raise cattle for food, but that would interfere with the work of mowing the lawns at the government posts.
Editorialettes
It must put a damper on eugenic

Some of the men have been wearing slit trousers, but so far none has had the nerve to appear in a lingerie

Something to Worry About.
A Muncie woman says that souls weigh four and three-eighths ounces.
Now it is said that punctuation marks on envelopes is not good form.
This is not the way the fair stenographer sets the style.
A justice of the peace at Sullivan has held that a person is justified in killing the neighborhood chickens if they scratch up the flower beds and garden. Here's one time that common sense overruled the law.
If the motorist can figure out one chance in two of getting across in front of a fast train, he should take the risk else his record for the run will be spoiled.
Dried cantaloupes which have been put on the market should be popular at boarding houses.
This only serves as a reminder that pawpaws are ripening fast as the frosts recur—which is in reality, about the only thing we have against frost.

Fowls are quiet on the market, the papers say. The market evidently never tries to sleep about 5 a. m.
A bachelor girl, as the twentieth century dame puts it, is one a person is apt to call an old maid when her back is turned.
The Kokomo Tribune imagines the floating population is that part of the people which moves in the rain. We should hate to have figured out the floating population in Rushville
March 25, 1913, at about six a. m.
Aw, come on and let's go paw-

RUSHVILLE NOW FORGES TO FRONT

Main Street Christian Sunday School is Two Points Ahead of Winchester, Kentucky.
WINS EVERY POINT SUNDAY

As a result of the activity of the scholars of the Main Street Christian Sunday school Sunday, the local school is now two points ahead of the school at Winchester, Kentucky. In the contest that is being conducted between the two, the Rushville school won every point Sunday—a total of seven—which now makes the score 33 to 31.
The Rushville school had an attendance of 562 as against 501 at Winchester, a collection of $24.80 and Winchester $21.67, 37 new scholars and Winchester had only 16. No points were won on the per cent. of teachers present as all teachers were present at both schools.
The activity of the Rushville school in the celebration of Fathers' Day is largely responsible for the victory last Sunday. Next Sunday the school will observe church members day and an effort will be made to get every member of the church to Sunday school.

IS HURT DURING A FRIENDLY SCUFFLE

John Mack of This City Temporarily Paralyzed by Blow on Back of Head.

HE IS WORKING AT SEYMOUR

John Mack of this city, who has been employed at Seymour since the completion of the paving work in Perkins street and around the court house block, was injured in a peculiar manner Sunday night, according to the following from the Seymour Republican:
John Mack, foreman employed by DeGolyer & Company on the North Walnut street improvement, was temporarily paralyzed Sunday night when he was struck on the back of the head in a friendly scuffle with Peter Hammond at the corner of Second street and Indianapolis avenue. The men are good friends and both are working on the street contract.
Hammond did not intend to injure Mack and struck him with his open hand but the blow was received at the base of the brain, resulting in a temporary paralysis. Mack was taken to the office of a local physician where he was given treatment and is able to walk around Monday but was not in a condition for work. He will suffer no permanent effects from the blow.
DIES OF CRUSHED SPINE
Webb Bradley of Fairland, Shelby county, who was injured from a fall in John Gaheimer's grove near Manilla a week ago last Saturday, died at his home Monday night. He was taken to an Indianapolis hospital after the accident but it was found his life could not be saved.

Your Heating Stove

Should be selected with care and judgment. A cheap stove or a poorly constructed stove is always a bad investment, because it goes on wasting fuel (and dollars) for you year after year.
For the average user nothing will equal a good HOT BLAST.
I can show you a line which is strictly up-to-the-minute—all the good features of the old kinds, with all the new things added.
No inside parts to burn out, no repair expense for years.
Perfect floor heaters—perfect fire keepers.

Prices $17 to $28. Others as low as $3.75

DRASTIC LAW TO GO INTO EFFECT

Federal Migratory Game Statute Will Become Effective One Week
From Wednesday.

COPIES OF IT DISTRIBUTED

One of the most sweeping and far-reaching national game laws ever enacted will go into effect on Wednesday of next week and the government has sent copies of the Weeks-McLean migratory bird law to all parts of the country, so as to give the authorities and the hunters throughout the country a chance to become acquainted with the provisions of the law.

The law fixes the seasons for shooting migratory birds and also divides the country into two zones, a northern and a southern, in order that the birds may be protected to the fullest extent. Twenty-five states are in the northern zone, while the southern zone comprises the remaining twenty-three States. The shooting season for the two zones varies according to the classification of the four classes of migratory birds.

Spring shooting is absolutely prohibited, as it is the shooting of migratory birds between sunrise and sunset. In most cases three months of open shooting for water fowl are allowed, and in no case will there be less than thirty days when birds may be shot during the period of their greatest abundance.

AUTO HITS BUGGY.

north of Claraksburg Sunday night.
He was not injured but the buggy was damaged.

The Hot Blast, Air Tight FLORENCE

The only Absolute Smoke Consuming Stove on the market; the only jointless leg bottom base with ash pan that has ever been made, which makes the FLORENCE HOT BLAST the best fire keeper on the market and will be as good a fire keeper 20 years hence as it is today. It is the best Floor Heater that is on the market. It is the only stove made using the J. B. Howard Patent Combustion Damper, which controls the fire better than any other stove made.
All features are patented and no stove manufacturer, dealer or user can copy the same. Beware of all imitations or people who claim to have the same or one just as good and do not be deceived by such false statements. There is only one genuine air tight Hot Blast on the market and that is the Florence. Come in and see them.

Prof. Budlong Was Quickly Relieved of Both Affliction by Using Rheuma.

If you suffer from any form of Rheumatism, remember that RHEUMA goes to work quickly to remove the cause, not simply to relieve the distress. Many years' use has demonstrated that it goes to the seat of the disease and expels the poisonous matter through the natural channels—the Kidneys, bowels, liver and skin.

"For many years I was troubled with Rheumatism, also with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I suffered awfully. Tried many advertised remedies. After using your truly remarkable preparation, RHEUMA, I was fully cured."—Prof. C. J. Budlong, Sound View, Conn.

CHAPTER XI.

How We Landed on the Wondrous Shore.

ALTHOUGH our progress in the water laden boat was slow, it didn't take us long to reach the shore, which was there nothing more than a strip of sand perhaps a hundred yards across at the widest part. It was as bare of anything as the palm of my hand. I hauled the boat up on it after we had disembarked and hastened to discharge its precious cargo. The invaluable powder and shot had been kept in cans and flasks in air tight lockers forward and aft and were undamaged. The rest of her lading had been in the water too short a time to be much hurt. It was all water soaked, of course, but an hour's exposure in the warm sun on the dry sand would make it as good as new. Spreading all out to dry I pulled the plug from the boat, drained the water from her and hauled her up well on to the sand.

A hasty glance assured me that the cliff was of coral formation, jagged and broken with many a crevice and cranny. After we had made everything shipshape I suggested to Mistress Lucy that we start at once exploring. I proposed that we follow the course of the sandy strip and see if there was not some break in the cliffs whereby we could get to the top and learn what was within the wall. And so refreshing ourselves and taking with us some provisions, for we might have to go clear around the island, we presently started out.

I felt very easy in my mind regarding any present peril from the ship, for I knew that no boat she possessed could run the reef as I had done, and even if she had had another like the dinghy I was confident that there was no man aboard her that had the strength and skill, to say nothing of the courage, to bring her through. If there were no natives or wild beasts to be feared we were at least safe for the time being.

"Think you, Master Hampdon," said my little mistress, "this is the island of which my ancestor wrote?"

"I am sure of it," I replied.

"He referred to it, if I remember right, as the 'Island of the Stairs,' did he not?"

"Yes," was my answer. "You remember he indicated a stairway about the middle of the island."

"Surely, if we are to get to the top of yonder wall it must be by stairs of some sort."

"It would not be difficult to climb it," I assented, "for a man, that is, save for one thing."

"And what is that?"

"These pinnacles of rock are as sharp as needles. It would be like climbing broken glass. The climber would be cut to pieces before he had gone half way."

"Then if we find no stairs we are in a bad fix," she said thoughtfully, examining the towering wall.

"There must be stairs," I answered.

"There must be a way. The latitude and longitude agree with your ancestor's description and I make no doubt we shall chance upon them."

So we tramped along, searching the shore and sea and finding nothing. After perhaps an hour's monotonous going, when we had traversed about a third of the distance of the island, we rounded a projection of the cliff and there before us rose the stairs!

What we saw was a gigantic stairway, irregular, but made of huge blocks of rough hewn stone, not coral rock, but harder stone of firmer texture, like granite almost. I was not familiar with the stone either. There was no symmetry about it, some of the stones rose perhaps three feet and others not more than as many inches, but stairs they certainly were and they surely had been made by man, and the stones were most carefully fitted, being laid up without mortar, the surfaces so close that I could scarce thrust a knife blade between. The huge blocks were of monstrous size, too, much too great in bulk and weight to be handled by any primitive mechanical means. I thought I never could conceive how natives or primitive men could have shaped them, moved them and finally laid them up in the form of stairs.

Nor did the stairs alone awaken our amazement and quicken our curiosity. They ended in a circling belt of sand, here a little wider than elsewhere. At the bottom on either side, two gigantic statues or busts of stone had been erected. Their bases were buried in the sand, and they rose to quite twice my height above and I am good six feet and more tall. These stones were carved into the rough yet not unreal likenesses of human faces.

Why we had not discovered these stairs from seaward was because they didn't come squarely down to the water's edge at right angles to the wall, but lay, as it were, parallel to a niche within the wall so that they were somewhat sheltered from observation from the sea.

We broke upon them suddenly, therefore, Mistress Lucy clutched my arm.

"The giant stairway!" she cried in amazement.

"It is indeed," I said, "just as it was set forth in the parchment."

"And the great stone faces," she added in a voice in which there was a touch of awe.

"Let us go nearer and ascend the stairs," I said, taking her hand and leading the way, and she was so preoccupied that she did not notice.

I observed as we approached the stairs that the rock had been worn smooth by the wind and weather, or maybe by the passing of many feet and were quite practicable for ascent. The angle at which they rose was steep too.

The ascent was easy enough for me, but hard for her, and several times I made bold to lift her up the higher steps, which she suffered without complaining. She told me long afterward that my manner toward her then and thereafter had been perfect.

When we at last reached the top before us lay a broad pathway rudely paved with the same hard stone. This road led straight into the interior of the island of which we could see as yet nothing, because the wall hereabouts was covered with dense, luxuriant vegetation. Progress was difficult even in the pathway. It would have been impossible in some places but for my heavy cutlass with which I cut a path where the place had become overgrown by trees and bushes which had forced their way through the cracks, overturning and breaking the heavy flagstones and blocking up the path, which it was evident had not been traversed for generations, perhaps not since the old buccaneer himself had walked along it beneath the spreading trees.

For perhaps a mile we pursued our journey across the top of the wall, winding in and out among the trees through the jungle, the path evidently seeking the most level direction, for the top of the wall was very much broken and irregular.

At last we came to an open spot on the inner edge overlooking the whole island, and before us lay such a picture as few eyes, at least of our race, had ever looked upon. The wall ended abruptly and fell on the inner or landward side as precipitously as it rose outwardly and to seaward. Before us lay a most entrancing valley, perhaps three or four miles across and maybe half as long again in the other direction and which was walled about on every hand. It was sunk beneath this wall crest for perhaps 100 feet or more.

In the center of the valley the land rose a little higher than the island wall in a very considerable hill, tree crowned on the slopes, but largely bare on the crest. Through the valley ran a brook, which ended in a little lake, which I suspected had some subterranean connection with the ocean. As far as we could see—and the whole circuit of the island was now clearly visible to us—the inclosing wall was unbroken. The valley was filled with clusters of trees and alternating stretches of grassy meadow.

We should have been hard put to it to descend the wall to the valley were it not for the fact that the same people who built the stairs that gave access to the wall from the sea had built a similar flight which led to the valley. Before we essayed the descent of the stairs we drank our fill of the beauty and mysterious charm of it all. Indeed, there was no sound that came to us except the twittering of the birds of which there were many, brilliantly plumaged, flitting in the trees. All else was still, lonely, deserted, oppressively so in fact.

"What think you of this?" My lady broke the silence. "Is it not like the crater of a volcano?"

"No," said I; "these are coral rocks, and there is no sign of lava about them, yet it has somewhat of the appearance, especially that flattened bill in the center."

I have since talked with many men and studied the writings of the most learned geologists. They have fancied that perhaps the rocky projection in the middle of the valley, where we saw the great altar of sacrifice with its attendant idols later on, was the original island, which was once surrounded by a coral reef, which was now become a wall, and that some great upheaval had lifted the whole up out of the water in ages gone by and that the barrier reef over which we had passed was the second attempt of the busy little insects to surround the island again.

"What is to be done now?" asked my little mistress.

"I hardly know," I answered. "What is exercising me most now is, first of all, what is going on in that same mysterious ship, and, next, how we shall finally get away from here."

"You are impatient," returned my lady, smiling.

"Impatient for you, madam," I interrupted, checking myself from further self revealing speech just in time.

"One thing at a time," she continued. "By the favor of God, we have escaped from the murderers and mutineers. We shall not starve upon this island, and I have no doubt that sooner or later you will devise some means of our escape."

It was past noon by this time. I made sure of it by looking at the sun and confirming it by my watch, which I most carefully kept running during all our sojourn on the island, which indicated close on two bells, 1 o'clock. Our talk of the ship recalled me to my self.

"I think," said I, "that we had better postpone the exploration of the island until another day and go back to our landing place. If I know the men on that ship they will guess that we have escaped to this island and they will bring her round to this side, where we may have them under view and they us."

"Think you that they can come at us?" she asked, in sudden alarm.

"I think not," I answered confidently, "but still to make sure I should like to have them under observation."

Well, to make a long story short, we retraced our steps over the broken path until we reached the stairs on the other side. The descent of them was much easier than the ascent, and by 2 of the clock we stepped on the sand again. There before us in the offing was the ship. We saw them quite plainly, and I doubt not they caught sight of us immediately also. They were scarcely a quarter of a mile away from the reef, perilously near, I thought, and we could mark them crowding the rail and staring landward. We could see them brandishing their weapons and we could imagine the yells which must have arisen from the decks when they caught sight of us.

The ruffians aboard the ship did not content themselves with simply staring at us, for presently they assembled on the port quarter—the ship was under all plain sail on the starboard tack at the time, the wind having fallen on to a gentle breeze during the day—and clambered into the cutter, swinging at the davits. As she was lowered into the water, fully manned, Mistress Lucy drew closer to my side, seizing my arm with both hands.

"Let us fly! They are coming to take us!" she cried in great alarm.

"But they are on a vain errand," I reassured her.

"But why? How can you know that? Oh, Master Hampdon, let us hasten away."

"We have a protector," I answered confidently enough.

"God?" asked she.

"His handiwork," I replied as I indicated with a gesture the barrier reef over which the waves were breaking.

"But we passed it."

"Yes, in a tight dinghy, and you remember the difficulty and danger. They will never surmount it in the heavy cutter. They will not attempt it, trust me."

"But if there should be an opening?"

"I don't believe there is one," was my reassuring reply. "I have no fear that they can get at us."

"And we can't get to them," she answered more composedly.

"I have no wish so to do," I laughed.

"You don't understand me," she persisted. "What keeps them out keeps us in."

"Yes," I admitted, "that is true, but for the present I don't mind being kept in so long as they are kept out."

She looked at me quickly and confessed afterward that my words begot some quick suspicion which she admitted was unworthy of her and unwarranted by any act of mine, but I looked so placid that it soon passed from her mind. As a matter of fact, I had not appreciated the significance of my words. I should have been perfectly willing, I should be still, to pass the rest of my life alone on that island or anywhere else with my little mistress only. I was happy then. I had got her to myself; she must look to me for everything. The haughty little queen of the quarterdeck was now the humble dependent by my side.

TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF

Stricken With Paralysis Making Political Speech.

BROUGHT HIS SPEECH TO A SUDDEN CLOSE

Tim Woodruff Paralyzed at Political Meeting.

New York, Sept. 30.—Timothy L. Woodruff, three times lieutenant governor of this state, suffered a stroke of paralysis last night when he was delivering a speech at Cooper Union, notifying John Purroy Mitchel of his nomination for mayor. Mr. Woodruff was able to put a concluding paragraph on his speech before his friends saw that he was on the point of collapse. While the audience was applauding what they supposed to be the end of his address, five or six men on the platform ran up to Mr. Woodruff and helped him off the stage. Hasty examination by physicians showed that his left side was partially paralyzed. He did not lose consciousness. He was sent home and physicians were hurriedly summoned.

Few of the people who filled the assembly room at Cooper Union realized that anything was amiss. Mr. Woodruff carried through his speech with his customary vigor until he was within a few paragraphs of the end. To those who knew what he was going to say it seemed that he was purposely cutting his set speech short in order to come within the time limit.

Timothy L. Woodruff, who is fifty-five years old, has been a political figure in New York state for nearly thirty years.

FORCED THE LESSON HOME

Mississippians Compel Negroes to View Bodies of Lynch Victims.

Harrison, Miss., Sept. 30.—Silent from fear of the living, not awe of the dead, 2,000 negroes, comprising practically all the colored population of this vicinity, were compelled to pass in line before the coffins in which lay two members of their race lynched Sunday. The negroes lynched were the two who started the race riot that resulted in a total of twelve deaths and sixteen wounded.

Two more of the wounded, one a negro, died yesterday and three men, a white and two blacks, are in a critical condition.

The whole countryside is still armed and Robert Patton and John Prophet, said to have incited the Jones brothers to their riot, are in imminent danger of sharing the fate of the other pair.

Victim of Streetcar Accident.
Indianapolis, Sept. 30.—Miss Nellie Preble, aged seventeen, an employee of the Diamond chain works, was killed and a number of other passengers injured when a streetcar was struck by a cut of freight cars pushed by a Belt railroad engine at West Michigan street and the Belt.

Preferred Death to Divorce.
Muncie, Ind., Sept. 30.—After making arrangements with his wife whereby he consented to appear as the defendant in her suit for divorce, J. Harvey Jetmore, expert automobile machinist, killed himself by taking poison. Jetmore was thirty-one years old.

Trouble Between Prominent Citizens Reaches Climax.

ATTEMPT TO KILL ALLEGED

Riley Stewart is Under Arrest Charged With Shooting at His Brother-in-Law, Thomas Tillison, Whom He is Alleged to Have Waylaid With a Shotgun, Ineffectually Firing Twice as Tillison Passed Stewart Home.

Shelbyville, Ind., Sept. 30.—Riley Stewart, who lives northeast of Fairland, is alleged to have shot twice at Thomas Tillison of Fairland while Tillison was driving past Stewart's home. Tillison says Stewart used a shotgun, but missed both times he fired. Ill feeling has existed between the men for some time.

It is said that after Stewart's unsuccessful attempts to kill Tillison he reloaded his gun and gave chase through a cornfield in the hopes of getting another shot. Tillison was picked up by his brother, who was passing along the road in a buggy, and hurried to a place of safety. A warrant was issued and Stewart was arrested on charges of assault and battery and pointing weapons.

The men are brothers-in-law, Tillison having married a sister of Stewart. The latter and his wife separated some time ago and Stewart blames Tillison for his troubles. There also has been trouble between the two men on account of a suit Stewart's father has filed against Tillison about the sale of some land.

Tillison, who is a stock buyer, was passing the Stewart home with a wagon load of calves when Riley appeared and is alleged to have fired at him without a word as he jumped from his wagon and ran. The charge went over his head, but Tillison was knocked down. As he ran Stewart is said to have fired again and the charge struck almost at his feet. Then the chase commenced through a cornfield.

A few weeks ago Stewart is said to have made an attempt to kill Tillison, but friends kept him from firing at that time. The men are about forty years old.

WHILE CRAZED BY DRINK

Columbia City Man Attacks Son With a Butcher Knife.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 30.—Crazed from the effects of liquor and sickness, Frank Cramer of this city assaulted his son, John Cramer, with a butcher knife, inflicting serious cuts about the boy's head and body. The cries of the youth attracted the attention of people living close by and they broke into the Cramer home and saved the boy from being murdered by the father.

The boy was rushed to a physician's office, where his injuries were dressed, twenty stitches being required to sew up all of the wounds inflicted. At the time of the assault Cramer's wife and two daughters were out shopping.

Family Quarrel Leads to Shooting.
Greensburg, Ind., Sept. 30.—Ethie Waybright shot and seriously wounded his brother-in-law, Wilbur Nation, during a quarrel at the home of Mrs. Margaret Nation, a half mile north of Sandusky, where a family dinner was in progress.

Held on Bigamy Charge.
Evansville, Ind., Sept. 30.—For marrying Louis Curtis before obtaining a divorce from John Daugherty, Maggie Daugherty, twenty years old, was arrested for bigamy.

Suicide of a Soldier.
Frankfort, Ind., Sept. 30.—Ara E. Campbell of this city, a member of the signal corps at Fort Benjamin Harrison, committed suicide. No cause is known for the suicide.

E. P. Thompson of Dayton, O., was elected president of the American Society of Archaeologists.

Any Woman who wears these Wooltex Suits will be stylishly attired.

It has been said "clothes make the man." It certainly is true that Wooltex coats and suits make stylish women

We submit as proof the two figures shown herewith

Copyright 1913 by The H. Black Co.

No. 3527.—The lover of outdoor sport will like this Wooltex suit, because of its easy graceful lines. The jacket is a plain tailored cutaway. The shirred effect at the sides of the skirt and the full panels at the bottom, permit plenty of foot room. In French serge or wide wale cheviot this model is an extraordinary value.

No. 3526.—Twenty-five dollars never bought the equal of this suit. It's a plain tailored cutaway with distinctive style touches in the stitched tucks at the back of the jacket and in the skirt. An extremely useful garment for nearly every occasion. Well made in a variety of cheviots and serges; tailored in usual Wooltex way.

CAUGHT IN CHAIN OF AUTOMOBILE

Edward Shook, Age Fourteen, Son of Frank Shook, Suffers Crushed Chest at Manila.

STRIPPED OF HIS CLOTHES

Boy Has Narrow Escape and it is Now Believed That he Will Recover Soon.

Edward Shook, age fourteen, son of Frank Shook, the well-known confectioner, of Manila, almost lost his life, Sunday afternoon at five o'clock, in a terrible accident in that place, when he tilted out of a chain drive auto delivery truck, which was being driven by his father, says the Shelbyville Democrat. As he fell his clothes caught in the chain and before the machine was stopped they were torn into shreds.

Mr. Shook and son were delivering some ice cream. The lad was in the rear part of the auto truck, sitting on a pine box. As they turned a corner, the youngster looked backward and waved at some other boys. The box tilted and he went over the side of the machine. His screams attracted the attention of his father, but before the latter could stop the auto the clothes were torn from the lad and the rear wheel had passed over his chest.

Witnesses of the near fatal accident and the father thought the lad had been killed as he fainted and it was a few minutes before he revived. He was carried to the home of Dr. W. E. Barnum and Drs. Emerson Barnum and T. C. Waltemire were summoned to attend him. After a careful examination they found the chest to be crushed in somewhat, which prevented good breathing, but no internal injuries. The lad's left arm was also wrenched and he was badly bruised over the body. The attending physicians have the greatest hopes for his recovery. Dr. Barnum stated this afternoon that the boy was much improved today.

LOOK OUT RUSHVILLE.

Arlington defeated Clarksburg Sunday at Arlington by the score of five to four. Arlington seems pretty near invisible and this very team will close the season here with the Rushville team.
